

Oops!

These are some well-known excuses that drivers have reported to the police or their insurance company after being in a car accident.

- Coming home, I drove into the wrong house and collided with a tree I don't have.
 - The other car collided with mine without giving warning of its intentions.
 - I thought my window was down, but found it was up when I put my hand through it.
 - I collided with a stationary truck coming the other way.
 - The guy was all over the road; I had to swerve a number of times before I hit him.
 - I pulled away from the side of the road, glanced at my mother-in-law, and headed over the embankment.
 - In my attempt to kill a fly, I drove into a telephone pole.
 - I had been driving for 40 years when I fell asleep at the wheel and had the accident.
 - My car was legally parked as it backed into the other vehicle.
 - I was thrown from my car as it left the road. I was later found in a ditch by some stray cows.
 - I was sure the old fellow would never make it to the other side of the road when I struck him.
 - The pedestrian had no idea which direction to run, so I ran over him.
 - The indirect cause of this accident was a little guy in a small car with a big mouth.
 - An invisible car came out of nowhere, struck my vehicle, and vanished.
 - The telephone pole was approaching. I was attempting to swerve out of its way when it struck my front end.
